FAQs About Reality: Chris Langan's Social Media Posts, Book 1: Quora Christopher Michael Langan 2021-01-31 FAQs About Reality contains all of Christopher Langan's answers to questions posted on Quora during the years he was active, 2016-2019. Langan was banned from Quora for his conservative worldview and uncompromising debate style. Although Langan never broke Quora's rules or violated its terms of service, he was summarily deplatformed without warning. All of his posts were deleted or orphaned. With the help of members of the Mega Foundation and CTMU Community, the majority of his work on Quora was preserved in this volume.
Guide Posts on the Highways and Byways of Education Gertrude Frances Rowell 2018-01-26 Excerpt from Guide Posts on the Highways and Byways of Education: The Public Schools of America, the Hope of Democracy It was a friendly guide post, his wandering steps to lead. The destruction of standards, as well as of life, produced by the World War, caused a little book called Guide Post: in Education to be Written. Seven years have passed and again the message of Guide Post: insists upon expressing itself. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books. Post-Soul Nation Nelson George 2005-04-26 One of the foremost chroniclers of the contemporary black experience offers an undeluded perspective on the 1980s. Here are crack, AIDS, and the Reagan rollback of the major advances of the civil rights movement. But Nelson George also shows how black performers, athletes, and activists made increasing inroads into the mainstream. This fast-paced, chronological retrospective profiles personalities from Bill Cosby to Louis Farrakhan and explores such flashpoints as the first rap single and the infamous Willie Horton ad campaign. Fence Posts Doug Chumley 2016-08-26 In Deuteronomy 19:14 God commanded "You shall not move your neighbor's boundary mark, which the ancestors have set, in your inheritance which you shall inherit in the land that the Lord your God gives you to possess it." Very similar commands concerning landmarks are found in five other places in the Bible. Figuratively the landmark is God's Word. In a culture dominated by deconstructionist philosophy, we are being taught that right and wrong are nothing more than archaic superstitions that a dwindling few cling to and seek to impose upon a society that has outgrown them. From that chaos and moral void, Fence Posts shouts out the commission that God has given to men to be that boundary between right and wrong. Throughout the book you will learn: - That scripture defines how God establishes his boundaries - How God uses His men as the fence posts of those boundaries - About the importance of the family to the prosperity of a culture So, come and learn to be the landmark that God has called you to be as a man in your family, job, and community.

The Cognitive-Theoretic Model of the Universe: A New Kind of Reality Theory

Christopher Michael Langan 2002-06-01 Paperback version of the 2002 paper published in the journal Progress in Information, Complexity, and Design (PCID). ABSTRACT Inasmuch as science is observational or perceptual in nature, the goal of providing a scientific model and mechanism for the evolution of complex systems ultimately requires a supporting theory of reality of which perception itself is the model (or theory-to-universe mapping). Where information is the abstract currency of perception, such a theory must incorporate the theory of information while extending the information concept to incorporate reflexive self-processing in order to achieve an intrinsic (self-contained) description of reality. This extension is associated with a limiting formulation of model theory identifying mental and physical reality, resulting in a reflexively self-generating, self-modeling theory of reality identical to its universe on the syntactic level. By the nature of its derivation, this theory, the Cognitive Theoretic Model of the Universe or CTMU, can be regarded as a supertautological reality-theoretic extension of logic. Uniting the theory of reality with an advanced form of computational language theory, the CTMU describes reality as a Self Configuring Self-Processing Language or SCSPL, a reflexive intrinsic language characterized not only by self-reference and recursive self-definition, but full self-configuration and self-execution (reflexive read-write functionality). SCSPL reality embodies a dual-aspect monism consisting of infocognition, self-transducing information residing in self-recognizing SCSPL elements called syntactic operators. The CTMU identifies itself with the structure of these operators and thus with the distributive syntax of its self-modeling SCSPL universe, including the reflexive grammar by which the universe refines itself from unbound teleis or UBT, a primordial realm of infocognitive potential free of informational constraint. Under the guidance of a limiting (intrinsic) form of anthropic principle called the Telic Principle, SCSPL evolves by telic recursion, jointly configuring syntax and state while maximizing a generalized self-selection parameter and adjusting on the fly to freely-changing internal conditions. SCSPL relates space, time and object by means of conspansive duality and conspansion, an SCSPL-grammatical process featuring an alternation between dual phases of existence associated with design and actualization and related to the familiar wave-particle duality of quantum mechanics. By distributing the design phase of reality over the actualization phase, conspansive spacetime also provides a distributed mechanism for Intelligent Design, adjoining to the restrictive principle of natural selection a basic means of generating information and complexity. Addressing physical evolution on not only the biological but cosmic level, the CTMU addresses the most evident deficiencies and paradoxes associated with conventional discrete and continuum models of reality, including temporal directionality and accelerating cosmic expansion, while preserving virtually all of the major benefits of current scientific and mathematical paradigms.

Social Media Posts : A Forward Richard A Damron 2020-09-03 This paper is a collection of Social Media Posts posted circa August 27 - September 1, 2020. As I was planning another Paper of the sort I write, my emotions turned to ire as the Republican National Convention 2020 was presented. The RNC 2020 moved me to post some prior thoughts that was intended to be published in a more formal and complete format, e-book. I thought it would be nice to offer this collection of posts and they also serve pretty nicely as a Forward to my next Paper, e-book.

About the Author, Chelsea

Peitz I got my real estate license in 2001 B.F. (Before Facebook) and spent a decade earning my living as a real estate agent without ever using social media because it didn't exist. I didn't grow up with the Internet of Things and I'm not a digital native, so I understand what it's like to feel overwhelmed by the constantly changing landscape of The Socials. While I'm no longer a Realtor, I've worked in this industry since 2001 and have a passion for making complicated processes simple, easy to understand and actionable. My goal is to provide you with all the tools you need to master your social media marketing in one place.
